Laotian Princes Reach Agreement on Cabinet Members

Trio To Sign Formal Pact On Tuesday

Souvanna Gets Defense Minister, Premier Posts

KHANG KHAY, Laos (AP) — Neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma announced today that Laos' three rival princes have reached agreement on a list of cabinet members of the coalition government he is to head.

The announcement was made by Souvanna after a meeting of an hour with pro-Communist Prince Souphanouvong and royalist Premier Prince Boun Oum.

Immediately after the announcement, the three princes signed the Cabinet list. Souvanna, however, said the three will meet again Tuesday to sign a formal agreement on formation of the coalition.

Souvanna said he hopes to take his ministers to Luang Prabang, the royal capital, by next Monday to present them to King Savang Vathana.

Had Blocked Agreement

The question of who would get the armed forces and police ministries had been one of the toughest points blocking an agreement. The royalist government had expressed fear that turning these posts over to the Communists would mean seizure of power through a takeover of the ministries.

Under today's agreement, Souvanna will be premier, defense minister and veterans and social affairs minister.

The Interior Ministry (police) went to one of Souvanna's close associates, Pheng Phongsavan, who will also be social welfare minister.

Gen. Phoumi Nosavan, strong man of the Vientiane royalist regime, and Souphanouvong will be deputy premiers. In addition, Phoumi will be finance minister, and Souphanouvong will hold the economy and planning portfolio.

The coalition Cabinet comprises seven representatives from Souvanna's neutralists, four from the royalist group in Vientiane, four from the pro-Communist Pathet Lao and four from the so-called Vientiane neutralist group.

Souvanna Aide Gets Post

Foreign affairs will go to one of Souvanna's aides, Quinim Pholsena, who headed the neutralist delegation to the Geneva conference on Laos.

The Information Ministry will be given to a Pathet Lao official, Phoumi Vongvichit, who also headed his party's delegation to Geneva.

The announcement on agreement on a Cabinet came as a surprise. After a morning meeting, an air of strong pessimism prevailed.

East Palestine Youths Second In Driving Road-ee

EAST PALESTINE — Two June graduates of East Palestine High School won second place, $500 scholarships and trophies Sunday at the teen-age safe-driving road-ee in Euclid, near Cleveland.

Don Archibold, with 576, was edged out by only three points by first place winner Michael Courtwright of Waverly. Total possible points was 604.

In the female competition Virginia Smith was second to Diane Bagley of Van Wert. The local girl garnered 549 points to Miss Bagley's 563.

Archibold and Miss Smith were sent to the state competition after winning the May 26 city contest sponsored by Rotary and Standard Oil Co. The local driver education trainer is James Nesbitt.

The two drivers will be honored today at the Rotary Club luncheon here.

Archibold is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Archibold and Miss Smith is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claire Smith. Both live on E. Main St.

Hundreds Reported Rounded Up

Franco Opponents Caught In Dragnet

MADRID (AP) — Hundreds of opponents of Generalissimo Francisco Franco's dictatorship have been reported arrested in a sweeping roundup of dissidents of all political shades.

Five leading monarchists were caught in the dragnet as they returned from a meeting of Spanish oppositionists in Munich, Germany. Three of them refused an offer of exile and were flown today to forced residence in the Canary Islands. Two went into exile in Paris.

Those flown to Fuerte Ventura, second largest of the Canaries, were Joaquin de Sarrutegui, an executive of the Spanish affiliate of the American-owned Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Co.; Fernando Alvarez de Miranda, 40, nephew of the Marquis of Val-

One Motorist Fined $150 After Crash

James L. Smith, 53, of 1145 E. Pershing was fined $150 and costs and sentenced to three days in jail for driving while intoxicated after he was involved in one of three city accidents that occurred over the weekend.

According to police, Smith was driving his vehicle north on Broadway at 9:25 p.m. Saturday when he struck the rear of a car parked at the intersection of E. Wilson. He appeared before Mayor Dean Cranmer Sunday.

Walter Lingo Jr., 16, of Youngstown was cited by city police Sunday after he backed his car into a vehicle driven by Robert L. Wiggers, 18, of 237 Hawley Ave. at 8:59 p.m. Sunday.

Police said both vehicles were halted for a stop sign on Oak St. at the intersection of S. Union, when Lingo backed up to let a car make a turn onto Oak St. striking Wiggers' vehicle.

Joseph F. Mayhew, 68, of 110 Woodland Ave., was cited for failure to yield the right of way after the car he was operating struck a vehicle driven by John A. Cibula, 25, of RD 4, Salem, at 9:40 p.m. Sunday. He was fined $10 and costs this morning in the mayor's court.

Police said Cibula was traveling east on State St. and had stopped at the intersection of Broadway for a traffic light. When the light turned green Cibula attempted to make a right turn and was struck

Train Plunges Over Embankment

1 Killed, 219 Hurt In Rail Accident

MISSOULA, Mont. (AP) — A Northern Pacific luxury train shot off a mountain curve in western Montana Sunday, killing a child and injuring 219 of its 350 passengers.

Of the 219 persons injured, 151 were treated and released. Sixty-eight were held for further treatment and observation. Still others, taken to a Missoula hotel to await further transportation, complained of bumps and bruises but did not seek hospital aid.

Only two of the 17 cars remained on the rails in the dawn derailment, which may cost the railroad $1 million. The other 15 cars of the Seattle-to-Chicago North Coast Limited carrying many visitors home from the World's Fair, catapulted down a 100-foot embankment 15 miles northwest of Missoula.

Two of the olive-green passenger cars plunged all the way to the bottom, coming to rest in a ditch along U.S. Highway 93 and 10A.

The nose of one car smashed deep into the ditch, scooping up mud that buried Terese Ann Dooms of Ekalaka, Mont. Terese, who would have been 3 June 30, was the first North Coast Limited passenger to be killed in 62 years.

Investigators are looking into the possibility of air brake failure. Reports from passengers and train personnel suggested the train was exceeding the 35-m.p.h. speed limit for the curve.

The train's speed recorder tape will be given to Interstate Commerce Commission investigators. A Northern Pacific official said at St. Paul, Minn. He wouldn't divulge what the recorder showed, except to say the speed was a "good deal slower" than 100 m.p.h.

The derailment came a little more than three months after the same train, westbound, ran off the tracks and into a lake near Athol, Idaho. Two crewmen were killed in that wreck. Its cause is still a mystery.

Most of the passengers were sleeping or just awakening at 4:40 a.m. as the train crashed a mile short of a trestle that spans a 300-foot canyon.

The body of the Dooms child was clawed out of the mud by a frantic woman. Another child buried in mud in the same car was rescued.

The train had passed over one mile of an eight-mile descent on winding Evaro Hill, which drops 1,100 feet.

"I noticed we were starting to pick up speed," said Jesse O'Connor of Chicago, a Pullman porter. "All of a sudden, I noticed such a fast rate of speed that I got dizzy."

Wendell Wardell of Billings, Mont., a passenger, said, "We were going so fast that our car leaned way over to one side. The car rocked back and forth twice, and I could observe the second car jackknife and pull the rest of the cars over the bank."

U. S. To Hold Biggest A-Test Blast To Be Set Off 200 Miles Up

HONOLULU (AP) — Extension of the United States high altitude danger area around Johnston Island was seen today as a preliminary to the firing of the biggest nuclear blast of the Pacific test series.

There was no official comment from Joint Task Force 8 on the precise altitude and size of the detonation but unofficial sources said it will be from 50 to 500 times as powerful as the bomb that destroyed Hiroshima.

There have been reports it will be of several megatons in force. A megaton blast is the equivalent of the explosion of a million tons of TNT.

The big blast will be set off about 200 miles high, the sources said. It will be the highest and biggest nuclear shot in U.S. history and will be seen in Hawaii, 750 miles northeast of Johnston.

The Atomic Energy Commission and the Defense Department announced Saturday that the nuclear danger area surrounding Johnston Island will be extended 60 miles

Move Supported by Leading Laymen

Atlanta Catholic Schools Integrated

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—The Roman Catholic Church has ordered Atlanta archdiocesan schools desegregated this fall in a move supported by leading Catholic laymen and the mayor of Atlanta.

The historic decision applied to Catholic schools in the 71 north Georgia counties of the archdiocese where about 7,500 pupils are enrolled. The total includes 735 negroes, all in Atlanta.

Archbishop Paul J. Hallinan said it was up to local bishops elsewhere in the archdiocesan province to decide what action to take in their areas. That included other sections of Georgia as well as North and South Carolina and Florida, all under the archbishop's titular control.

The desegregation decision was announced in a pastoral letter read during Sunday services in all the churches of the north Georgia archdiocese. "Catholic children, regardless

Seniors Honored At Annual Banquet

Alumni Assn. Gives Five Scholarships

Five 1962 Salem Senior High School graduates received scholarships with a total value of $2,800 Saturday night at the annual reunion and banquet of the Alumni Association at which new graduates were guests.

Top scholarship of $700 went to Allen L. Ewing, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Ewing of 1212 N. Ellsworth Ave., who will study at Ohio State University. Ruth Ann Winn, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Harold B. Winn of 355 W. 5th St., was the winner of the second largest scholarship of $600. She will attend Malone College in Canton.

Ewing hopes to become a doctor. Scholarships worth $500 were awarded to Kathy Cameron, daughter of H. W. Cameron of Beechwood Rd., Donald Cope, son of Wilford L. Cope of Depot Rd., and Nancy Boyd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boyd of Shady Lane Rd.

Miss Cameron and Miss Boyd plan to pursue careers in music at the Dana School of Music of Youngstown University. Cope will enroll at Ohio State.

The value of the current crop of scholarships is the largest since the Alumni Association has been granting them, according to new president, Robert Conroy, over the 59-year period in which scholarships have been given, a total of $43,750 has been granted.

Ewing presented the Association with a $250 check, a gift from the 199 graduated seniors, to bolster the scholarship fund which now has about $60,000.

Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp, class of 1914 and chairman of the scholarship committee, presented the awards followed by the response by honored graduates.

W. Eugene Young, 1927 graduate, was presented as the honored guest for his service contributions to the 30-year-old organization.

Announcement of new officers was made by president Bruce Gordon. They are: Robert Conroy, president; Ford Joseph Jr., first vice-president; Dr. Willard

Responds to GOP Blasts on Stock Market

President Denies Administration Hostile to Business

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—President Kennedy urged today that critics, business and political, discard "wornout slogans" and join hands with the government to pump new strength and confidence into the nation's economy.

Kennedy vowed his clash with the steel industry did not mean his administration is hostile toward business.

Need for Watchful Concern

But in a speech prepared for Yale University's commencement, he said the government is obliged to exercise "watchful concern for our economic health" while business and labor must live up to their public responsibilities.

Kennedy said economic problems bearing down on a free economy cannot be solved without separating myth from reality—and he said it is mythical to contend that government is big and getting worse or to argue that deficits in the federal budget always create inflation.

He responded by implication to charges by Republicans, including former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, and some spokesmen for business that his policies touched off recent stock market gyrations.

Cites False Issue

Among false issues which he said are frustrating efforts to push the economy forward, Kennedy declared "is the assertion that any and all unfavorable turns of the speculative wheel—however temporary and however plainly speculative in character—are the result of 'lack of confidence in the national administration.'"

"This, I must tell you, while comforting, is not wholly true. Worse, it obscures the reality—which is also simple. The solid ground of mutual confidence is the necessary partnership of government with all the sectors of our society in the steady quest

Kent State Signups Due Here Tuesday

The final briefing session for prospective students in the local Kent State University Extension School, scheduled to open here this fall, will be held Tuesday night at 7:30 in the Salem High School cafeteria.

Only 40 persons attended the first two briefing sessions, and according to Supt. Paul E. Smith, at least 150 persons must show interest to warrant the opening of a center here.

Applications will be made available at the meeting and questions concerning the center will be answered.

Supt. Smith urges persons who find it inconvenient to attend the briefings here to obtain applications and mail them directly to Kent State University.

Registrations in the Extension Center will be held between Sept. 1 and 15, at a time and place to be announced.

Brochures containing information about the center, as well as a sheet on which prospective students are asked to list their preferences for courses are distributed at various business locations throughout the city and are also available at the superintendent's office.

Estes Case, Stock Market Uneasiness Hike GOP Hopes

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Republican leaders are counting heavily on uneasiness in the stock market and the Billie Sol Estes scandal to help them win control of the House in the November election. Members of the Republican National Committee open formal sessions today with far more optimistic feelings about the election results than they had a month ago.

National Chairman William E. Miller put this feeling into words when he told a gathering of Young Republicans: "We have the issues on our side this time. We are going to win in November."

The issues, as spelled out by Miller and other committee members, revolve around what they called a lack of confidence by the business community in President Kennedy—as exemplified by the stock market's gyrations—a reputed effort by the President to enlarge executive power and a new GOP slogan that there are "too many Kennedys in government."

Fred Scribner of Maine, the committee's general counsel, said a national party survey indicates the people in general "are not nearly as happy as they were with the way the country is being run." Individual committee members reported a lift in Republican spirits, most of which was due to what they said was adverse reaction to Kennedy's steel price roll back tactics. Several mentioned the revelations concerning Estes' manipulations in grain storage and cotton acreage allotments in Texas as being likely to damage Democrats.

A typical report came from South Dakota committeeman Carroll Lockhart, whose state was honored at a World's Fair ceremony Sunday.

"The anti-administration feeling in our state is so strong that I believe we are going to have a substantial victory there in November," Lockhart said.

Sen. Francis Case, R-S.D., is being opposed for re-election in the general election by George McGovern, who quit as head of the Food for Peace program to make the race.

Emphasizing GOP interest in the Estes case, Miller followed the line of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower in noting that the Democrats have control of all of the legislative and executive investigating machinery. To top this off, he said, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, the President's brother, "has the keys to the jail."

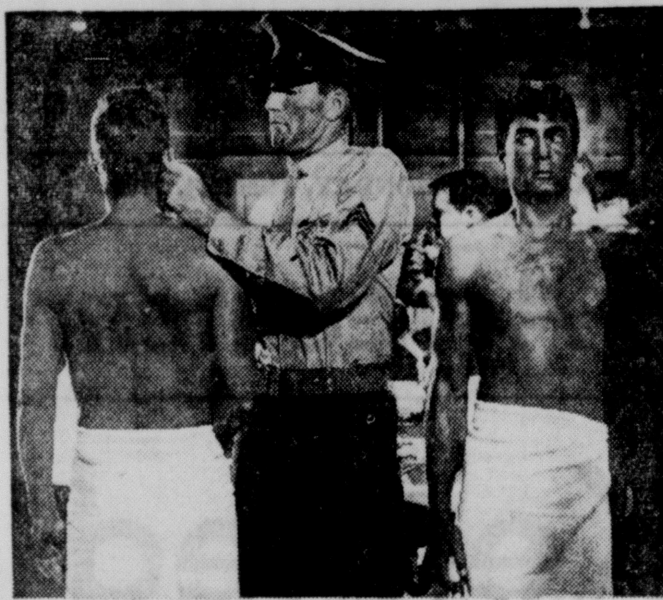

"Unless we Republicans gain control of the House, there will never be a full investigation of the Estes case or of any other scandal in this administration," Miller said.

The GOP chairman joined other Republicans in attacks on Edward Kennedy, the President's youngest brother, who is seeking the Democratic nomination for the Senate in Massachusetts.

Full Agenda On Tap for Senate, House

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate and House plunge into a full week of business this week for the first time this year.

A little bit of something for almost everybody but the taxpayers is on an unusually heavy docket.

Two appropriation bills top a group of four big bills in the Senate. They call for an outlay of $48 billion to finance the Defense Department for the fiscal year starting next month and $932 million for the Interior Department. Both have passed the House.

Once they are out of the way, the Senate plans to take up bills dealing with all-channel television and a space communications satellite system. They, too, have passed the House.

The House starts its week with a bill to take care of women workers. It would provide that women should receive the same pay as men if they do the same work.

Tuesday the House will take up the controversial Fryingpan-Arkansas reclamation project.

That will be followed on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday by bills to increase the statutory national debt limit to $308 billion and to write a controversial new farm program.

Committee activity will be highlighted by continuation of the Billie Sol Estes investigation by a House Government Operations subcommittee and by renewed wrestling with a general tax bill by the Senate Finance Committee.

On Tuesday the Senate Investigations subcommittee will begin peering into the shady side of night life. It will hear from showgirls, club owners and officials of the American Guild of Variety Artists as it presses an investigation into complaints that racketeers have tieups with some night spots in Chicago, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Miami, Tampa and Calumet City, Ill.

Take Safety Precautions In Outdoor Electrical Work

With the addition of electrical outlets, living outdoors can be almost as convenient as living indoors.

The simplest form of outdoor connection is running an extension cord from indoors. This is and sometimes dangerous.

Simplest Form
The simplest form of permanent outdoor connection can be had by simply fishing wires through the wall from indoors and mounting a receptacle on an outside wall.

Cut a hole in an outside wall to fit an outlet box. Bring wires through from an inside outlet or the fuse box. Be certain to remove the fuse for this circuit before working.

Hook up box and receptacle as you would for an indoor connection, except that you must provide a waterproof, rubber lined coverplate. Screw on caps offer convenience and safety.

Surface Box

If you do not wish to cut a hole, or if the outside wall is too difficult to cut through, install a surface mounted box. In this case the entire box must be waterproof.

The disadvantage of the house wall outlet is its limited use. At any distance from the house you are again forced to use extension cords.

Underground Job
Underground wiring is preferable. With the development of new types of wire that not need enclosures, this becomes simpler than ever. Before, all wires placed underground had to be lead-sheathed or run through conduit.

The newer neoprene covered wire is accepted by the Underwriters Laboratories and by most local codes.

Dig a narrow trench about a foot deep. Place 2 or 3 inches of sand or fine gravel in the bottom. Run the wire on top of this and replace the soil. If this is in an area where there might be digging, place a board over the top of the wire with some earth in between.

Run Through Conduit
The wire must be run through conduit wherever it is brought up through the ground or passed through a wall. Bend the conduit in an L shape so that the wire enters it horizontally and comes up vertically. Use weatherproof fittings. If the wire runs on past the fixture, continue it through another piece of conduit.

Do not attempt to double back through the same conduit. Do not make splices below ground.

The fixtures can be free-standing affairs anywhere in yard (if so, reinforce the conduit with concrete where it comes out of the ground), or can be fastened to the side of another building such as the garage or be mounted on a pole.

The safest thing to do when planning outside wiring is to plan on a separately fused conduit. If you are not sure of yourself, an electrician will assist you.

It's a good idea too to have an indoor switch (this can be at the fuse box) to turn off all power outside.

Building Permits

Three building permits were issued by F. S. Barckhoff, Jr., city zoning officer, during the past week.

Obtaining permits were:
William Beeson, to build a new porch and repair an old one at 275 N. Roosevelt Ave., $1,000.
William Salmen, to build a retaining wall at 1651 Ridgewood Drive, $200.

Nick Martens, to repair one-car garage at 593 E. Perry St., $300.

Home Buyers Demanding Plus Features

Prospective buyers in the present highly competitive new homes market are demanding "plus" features before they sign a purchase contract, reports the Institute of Home Designers. It says that buyers have been educated to look for signs of quality in even the lowest-priced homes, and are turning down otherwise well-designed houses which lack such features as a roomy, well-arranged kitchen; adequate electrical wiring; a basement with its separate exit to the outdoors; and adequate, accessible storage space.

When builders include such features as these, the institute says, their houses are easier to sell, even at prices higher than those for "stripped down" models which lack such conveniences.

Think Before You Plant Those Trees

If you are planning to plant landscape trees this spring, be selective and think ahead. It won't be very long before you have a thinning job to do in your little home forest if you plant only, or mostly, fast-growing trees. These include ailanthus, chinaberry, Chinese elm, silver maple, willow and poplar.

Overcrowding bars sunlight and prevents proper development of trees. Too much shade also keeps your other flowers from doing their best.

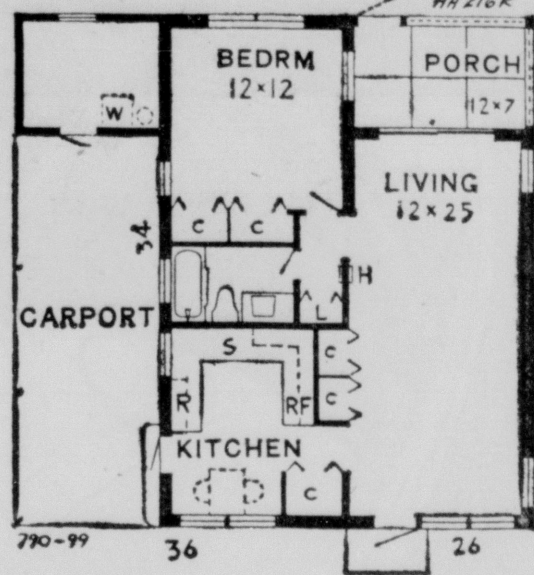

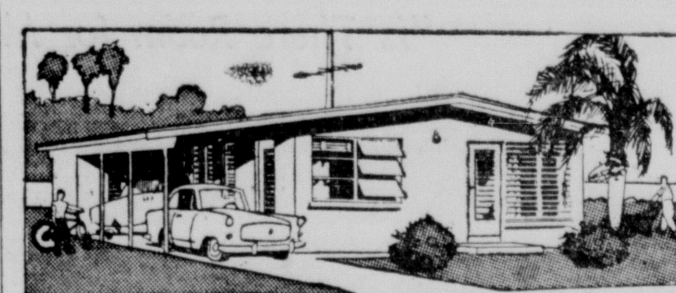

M. W. Staples, a Davey tree expert, recommends corrective pruning or tree removal in winter, while trees have no foliage, lawns are dormant and grounds are not being used extensively.

The bigger the tree, the more costly is the task of removal.

Here's the Answer
QUESTION: All our closets are cedar. They are 10 years old and all the cedar odor is gone. This condition began about a year ago.

At that time, we saved one of your writeups about this subject, but now that we need it, we can't locate it. Could you please tell us what to put on the cedar to bring back the odor?

ANSWER: You do not put anything on the cedar; you take RETIREMENT HOME — This slab-on-grade masonry home is economical for a retired couple. It has 790 square feet of floor space in four rooms, plus a screened-in porch, utility room and carport. Dimensions are 36 by 34 feet. Plan is HA216R and architect is Jan Reiner, P. O. Box 11567, St. Petersburg 33, Fla.

something off. When the odor disappears, it is because the pores of the wood have become clogged with dirt over the years.

Another possibility is that someone may have decided to put some kind of finishing material on the wood, which also stops the odor. To restore the cedar to its original condition, assuming that no finishing material has been put on it, a good sanding job is necessary. Use a fairly coarse grade of sandpaper and rub thoroughly.

If a finishing material has been put on it, you'll have to use a varnish remover, following the instructions on the label carefully. When the finish has been completely removed, then proceed with the sanding as discussed above.

Concrete Can Be Colored When Installing Or Later

Concrete is a good durable material for patios, drives and basement floors. But you may grow tired of its uniformly gray color. Concrete can be colored while being installed, or much later.

In new construction, the color in the form of a dry powder can be mixed with the concrete before pouring. Use only materials intended for this purpose. Coloring materials are available at paint stores or building supply firms.

Mixed Dry
The powder is mixed with other dry ingredients before water is added. Dry materials should be mixed until they are uniform in color.

It is difficult to determine the resulting color without trying out the mixture in small batches first. Measure your proportions very carefully and make note of them.

Make some small sample blocks and allow them to cure slowly and dry thoroughly. Then judge the color.

Save Money

Rather than color the whole batch of concrete, you can save money by coloring only enough for a layer about an inch thick. You will have to mix and pour two separate batches. Pour the base and roughen the surface with a broom. Allow to set until surface water has gone. Then apply the topping. The base should still be soft enough for bonding.

The above methods are fine if you mix your own concrete. But let's say that you have contracted for a cement mixer to come in and drop a load of concrete. If you are doing the finishing, you can still work color into the wet material by sprinkling the coloring powder on top of the material as soon as it is firm enough to support boards for you to kneel on.

Dust the powder on the surface as evenly as possible. Then work in with a wood float, then with a steel trowel. Work lightly with the steel trowel, or you will bring lime to the surface which will discolor it.

Staining and painting are methods used on older concrete.

Clean Surface

With either of the latter methods, you will have to make sure the surfaces are clean. Use a detergent to remove stains. In stubborn cases use lye, but handle it carefully and rinse thoroughly. Wear rubber gloves, boots and goggles.

Apply finish when surface is dry. Use a concrete stain, not wood stain. Apply according to directions. Remember that color intensity is determined by the amount of penetration so brush out smoothly. Don't allow puddles to form. Most stains require more than one coat plus a finish coat. Use paints that are designed for cement surfaces.

They've Decided to Save the Goose

Among the slogans we live by none is more threadbare than the one that warns us not to kill the goose that lays the golden eggs.

Yet, it is not strange that we admonish one another not to be foolish enough to kill the goose but rarely admonish one another to give it enough to eat?

Belatedly, here is President Kennedy admitting the economic recovery is in danger of "running out of gas" unless the government goes to work on a tax reform structure.

His words repeat the earnest advice of Secretary of Treasury Dillon, who told the New York Financial Writers Association of New York on June 4 that a "top-to-bottom reduction in the rates of income tax" is urgently necessary.

These two administration spokesmen are only repeating in turn what every economist has had on his mind for the last few years—that the United States government, with no intention of killing the golden goose, has been starving the goose to death by diverting too much of the national wealth into U.S. Treasury receipts.

EVERY OBSERVER who has studied the remarkable growth rate of foreign economies in recent years has reached the same conclusion. It was made possible by heavy investments in new production facilities and by enlightened tax policies that gave their golden-egg-laying geese assurance of enough to eat.

Yet at the same time that the United States itself was putting up much of the capital for the new facilities in other countries—creating efficient cooperation abroad for its enterprise at home—it was short-changing its own producers.

Not only was it taking too much of their wealth for its own purposes, but it also was cutting into the purchasing power of consumers with tax rates that reached confiscatory levels in the upper brackets where enterprise must look for capital funds.

Except for a handful of stubborn social reformers who insist that the tax structure is a doll house for their own use, everybody has known for years, both subjectively and objectively, that the federal government was bleeding the economy with excessive tax rates.

IT WAS DOING this not as a reflection of any popular mandate but solely because its power to tax and destroy was subject to no restraint by popular action. The people's representatives and senators in Washington were the victims of pressures they were unable to resist.

Tax-spending proposals that would have been rebuffed coldly if made at state and local levels were virtually unopposed in the great log-rolling contest on the Potomac.

If anyone suggested that the goose might be weakening, the reaction in Washington always was the same. The country was warned sternly that the government was running short of money and needed much more than its laggard, lazy, looting, cheating taxpayers were providing. Therefore, they must be disciplined more sternly; their returns must be examined more critically; more revenue must be taken out at the source; tax collectors must be made of sterner stuff than ever before.

This has been the attitude about federal taxes.

CONFRONTED now with a lagging total for gross national production and the possibility of an aborted economic boom, the attitude is changing.

There must be sweeping tax reform, says Secretary Dillon. The administration must go to work on a tax reform program, says President Kennedy.

The gentlemen are to be congratulated on their decision to save the goose. The poor fowl may be wobbling, but it's the only one in the nation that can lay golden eggs in gratitude to those who treat it right.

The point is it could lay more eggs than it ever laid before. The government would lose nothing by reducing tax rates if there were more income to collect taxes on.

On Year At a Time

That ultra-sensible idea of Sen. Lausche's about denying foreign aid to countries like Yugoslavia and Poland has no more chance in Congress than a snowball in Pecos, Texas, where the heat also is on.

But before the foreign-aid crowd ridicules Sen. Lausche and the 57 senators who agreed with him, one misrepresentation in particular should be straightened out.

This is the one which makes it appear that a country cut off from foreign aid because it was under communist domination would be forever beyond the pale—sentenced to live in limbo for eternity.

This is not the idea at all. All countries would be classified annually.

Any country shaking loose from communist domination could renew its claim on U.S. aid. Or if it never had had a previous claim, it could make its initial claim on firm evidence it was free from communist domination for the first time.

It is our thought that all countries should be on probation, not just communist-dominated countries, because some of the other dictatorships hate the United States just as much. But this is not in the Lausche amendment and probably isn't feasible. How would we decide about Spain and Portugal? Or France, if President de Gaulle happened to be in one of his dark moods?

But in general no government that insisted on spitting in Uncle Sam's face would have any claim on his tolerance. It would be an arguing point for international manners, which have been going to pot.

The truth is, nations never have loved one another. Everything they did was with an eye to the main chance. But when everybody knew it was done that way, no one was silly enough to insult a benefactor. And if a known enemy had whined for alms, the whole world would have broken into coarse laughter.

The idea is to restore the coarse laughter.

The New Fire Chief

Salem's new fire chief Elmer Bush, who prefers to be called Dutch, has nearly 18 years of training and experience in the department to qualify him for the position he now commands.

He left a factory job in 1944 to become a city fireman and by 1953 had advanced to lieutenant. He always has been a model of efficiency, a quality that undoubtedly will be reflected in his career as chief. We congratulate Dutch upon his attainment, knowing full well that his main objective is fire prevention and a desire to maintain a department second to none in the state.

Cotton Corners

By Truman Twill

Dear Newpew: Once more I have been crushed spiritually by my failure to receive an invitation to address a graduating class. I had a commencement address ready.

Dear young companions, I was going to say, it is part of my pleasure to welcome you into the company of travelers along life's highway. Watch for route markers and broken glass.

But most particularly watch for con artists. You don't know what a con artist is? He is the fellow who tells you what he wants you to believe. And because he knows you will fight him if you know what he is doing, which is to rob you of your integrity, he wins your confidence. That's why he's a con artist.

It is customary on these occasions to fill young people full of inspirational guff. It is your good luck to have to listen to an old party who has been pumped so full of inspirational guff it has lost its savor. There will be no guff served here.

Instead, I want to tell you and tell you again that the most important thing you can do as you continue your education is to beware of the con artists. Some of them already have been working on you in school. They have told you a number of things that aren't true, though in their behalf I admit they acted in good faith. They didn't know any better. As we say in these parts, "They were ignorant."

They have told you things about history that are not true.

Much of the grammar they foisted off on you that has been discredited. They told you things about arithmetic, algebra and geometry that were ridiculous. But don't hold that against them as individuals. They're typical. People have been doing the same thing to you ever since you were born.

Most of them meant no harm—but they're the worst kind. They're worse than the con artists, because they just do naturally what the con artists must perfect as an act to fool their victims.

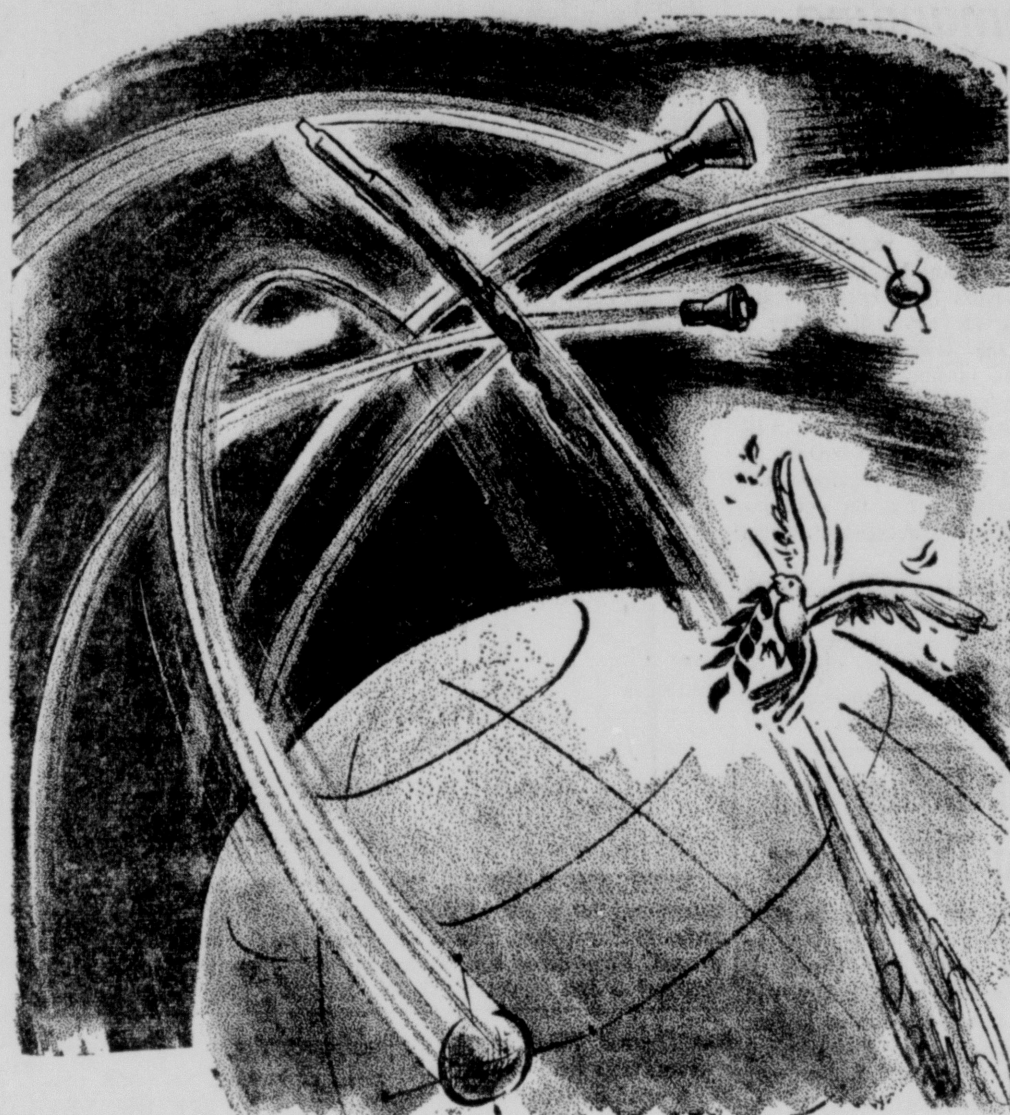

Be on guard, please do.

This is all I have to say to you, but if you lived a millennium no one would give you better advice.

I would have said these things if anyone had asked me to make a commencement address. By the time I had padded it with horrible examples of things that aren't true, though people believed them, I could have filled the air for 45 minutes.

"Is There Room for Me?"

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Starting with Aug. 13, President Kennedy's temper may rise with the temperature. Some of his best friends and allies are preparing to begin needling him then—gently—with the deft precision of a Christian Dior seamstress.

On that day labor's high command will meet in Chicago's Sheraton Hotel. It will put in a long week to officially launch the drive for a national law changing the standard work week from 40 to 35 hours.

There will be nothing personal in all this pins and needles work—as some union chiefs have already told JFK in personal conversations inside the White House. Amongst themselves the labor leaders are saying: "He's a swell guy, but he doesn't move." Or: "He hears but he doesn't listen."

Or: "He talks to us about full production, the balance of payments and the cold war. He also has a classical economic theory that building roads and public works will be enough to put the unemployed back to work."

ONE POLICY-MAKING labor official who will sit in on the AFL-CIO Executive Council session next August said, "We battled with Roosevelt and Truman and we remained friends and political allies."

"The President," he added with grinning reminiscence of the short steel war, "is a fighter. Now we want him to come out fighting for the 35-hour week. When he wants something he's a whirlwind. Now we'd like him to put as much gusto into the fight for a shorter work week as he is for 'medicare.'"

It will take a lot of needling to get the President into action on the 35-hour week. He's opposed to it. He's for 40 hours' work at 40 hours' pay. Furthermore, he's on the spot. The business people are saying JFK clobbered steel, now when is he going to clobber the unions.

These same industrialists note that the steel price grand jury is still hearing witnesses in New York.

There's been a lot of conferring in White House circles and between the White House men and some of the union chiefs. The point made by the inner administration group is—don't make it necessary for the President to speak out.

THEY DON'T USE the word "clobber." But they—and some of the best public relations brains—ask themselves how do you handle the current wave of strikes, the threats of crippling stoppages, and in some areas the go-to-hell attitude.

All this is so scattered that the administration giants would have to go arguing with regional business agents in a hundred cities. Some key strikes now are running into their second month.

At this writing, there is one, for example, in its third week in the Northwest, centering around the Seattle-Tacoma area. It has been tying up a cool billion dollars worth of construction—that's all!

This is one most folks outside of that corner of the land have not heard. The Ironworkers have hit the bricks. Their demands on the contractors call for a package increase which would run from $30 to $60-a-week.

THE IRONWORKERS want more money, natch. But they have some other rather intriguing demands.

These fellows use their cards a lot to get a big construction job. So one of their demands is for the contractor to pay the parking charge where parking isn't free.

They're also asking for free lunch and paid time in which to eat it after a certain number of hours.

In that business the men must change their clothes before getting on the job. They do this in a "change house." One of their new demands has it that the employer must supply free transportation to the job if the change house is more than six hundred feet from the work base.

The Ironworkers' Union also wants more paid travel time, special allotments if they use a ferry, travel time to be figured at 40 miles an hour, and the employer to pay for industrial compensation insurance during all this travel time from the house to the job and back.

THIS IS a free country. Everybody asks for what he thinks he can get. But there are 15,000 men involved in that Northwest strike—and new walkouts in the construction field are developing cross country.

In some areas the construction people have settled for $35 to $40-a-week more over a two-year contract. President Kennedy's line has been punched full of holes by such increased costs which will eat up a lot of the new public works' program money intended to make jobs for the unemployed.

So JFK feels he's been needled enough. That's why his temper may rise with the heat in August.

U.S. Economic Plight

By DAVID LAWRENCE

JFK Seems Unaware of Serious Situation

President Kennedy still shows no awareness of the serious plight of the American economy today. At his Thursday news conference he made no mention of the continuing demands of labor union leaders who seek to increase wage costs. Nor did he indicate any change in the administration's policy in forcing a profit squeeze by condemning price increases that are designed to take care of such labor costs. This dilemma, however, has been the basic cause of the stock market's recent collapse.

Mr. Kennedy chose instead to regard the market's fall as merely the natural result of the overpricing of securities and the ending of an era of inflation. He thinks it's all just speculative and—like President Hoover in 1929—he is arguing that conditions are fundamentally sound.

The President doesn't seem to have made up his mind just when a general tax cut that might be helpful to economic progress should be made for he talked vaguely at his news conference about postponing action on such a measure till the session of Congress which begins next January.

He said the bill could be made retroactive so it would take effect on the first of next year but it's difficult to do this, as the whole nation of taxpayers will find it hard to estimate their taxes while Congress is debating a change in rates.

Also, the President has tied into the same measure what he calls "offsetting" tax reforms to close loopholes and cut down loss of tax revenue. The President admits the net tax reduction will not be large. This will mean long debate and delay.

Maybe Mr. Kennedy thinks that Congress, which is to get the text of his tax proposals at the end of this summer, will be under such pressure from the people that an extra session may have to be called after the congressional elections in November to enact the bill.

THESE TACTICS could boomerang. The people would be voting then on an expectation instead of a concrete piece of legislation. Is this fair to the people? Aren't they entitled to know in advance what their taxes will be for the year ahead, and to have a chance to voice approval or disapproval at the polls?

Practical politics may dictate the answer that it is better to keep the people guessing and let them hope they may get more than they really will. To tell them exactly how little they will receive—when they have been led to expect more—is not supposed to be a wise strategy a few weeks before an election.

The whole approach is political. The administration isn't really anxious to grant any tax cut. It doesn't actually plan to let the corporation tax rate go down very much, if at all.

The sop to the industrial world is supposed to be in the form of two tax benefits. One, which will not be enacted by law but by revising existing Treasury regulations, would permit certain industries to shorten the period on which depreciation rates are computed.

The other would be a law giving to certain industries an 8 per cent investment credit. But this applies only to new machinery and equipment. It doesn't cover the whole problem of modernization which confronts companies in the heavy-goods industries.

This proposal has been before Congress for many months now. It has awakened little enthusiasm and a great deal of opposition. It really doesn't solve the problem of depreciation rules which for many years have been in need of a general overhauling.

THE BANDING about of such figures as a tax credit of $1.3 billion for new machinery and a tax saving of $1.2 billion through the new depreciation rules and perhaps another $200 million in various reductions of special taxes—such as those on transportation—will give the impression that a substantial tax cut is being recommended by the President.

In an economy which is supposed to have a gross national output estimated at somewhere between $550 and $565 billion this year, these are relatively trivial tax reductions.

Mr. Kennedy talked also about the possibility of an $8 billion surplus in the federal budget if the economy were to operate at full capacity.

This is a figure picked out of the air by his advisers who represent the school of thought which holds that a tax cut is periodically necessary to prevent too great a drain on the economy by taxes within a given period.

The American people, on the other hand, aren't worrying today about how the tax totals might theoretically become too big a slice of a prosperous economy. What they want to see first is a prosperous economy achieved. They then can worry about whether too much money is being taken out for taxes.

The real concern today is how to stimulate an economy in which profits have been squeezed by skyrocketing wage costs that have won the approval of an administration dependent for political support on the votes and campaign contributions furnished by union labor.

THE REAL ISSUE isn't being faced—whether monopoly power on the wage-cost side is ever going to be broken up just as monopoly power on the management side is forbidden by law.

To promise tax cuts across the board in 1963 to individuals will spur consumer spending and bring back fears of inflation. To give the proposed tax cuts to a few businesses next year will not save those really in trouble today.

The President has not come to grips with the immediate situation. He is taking a big risk politically, too. He may get the surprise of his life in the November elections. It is customary for the people to vote against the party in power when an economic recession is on—and there are signs that the forecast by the stock market of continued recession is more likely to turn out to be true than the optimistic statements of a big recovery by next November being issued in political precincts nowadays in Washington.

This and That

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

What people are most happy in their work? Surveys show they are teachers, social workers, clergymen, and writers. (Writers?)

It hardly seems worth while: Someone has figured out that for us to really get equal to Russia we would have to rip up 14 of every 15 miles of our paved highways, destroy two out of every three miles of our railroads, sink eight out of nine of our ships, junk 19 out of every 20 of our cars, destroy 40 million television sets, get rid of nine of every 10 telephones—and cut our paychecks by three-fourths.

Were you born with flat feet? Some of the greatest athletes rose above this handicap. A classic example was Jesse Owens, the great U.S. Olympic star.

For the man or woman who has almost everything: A London outfitter now makes up special safari-packs of martinis in aluminum-foil bags. Furrier Mike Forrest here is now featuring mink bikinis at $500 each.

Learn your language: Diamond comes from a Greek word "adamas," meaning "unconquerable" and "unchanging."

Our quotable notables: "Life is made up of sobs, sniffles, and smiles, with sniffles predominating."—O. Henry.

Our wise elders: When 19th Century railroad locomotives first achieved a record 30 m.p.h., the Munich College of Physicians warned rail travel at that speed would damage vision. In England, it was predicted that traveling 30 m.p.h. would cause insanity.

How they got started: William Gibson, who wrote the Anne Bancroft film vehicle, "The Miracle Worker," used to play piano in beer parlors before he won success as a playwright.

Prosperity note: Only about one of every 20 workers is unemployed today. But in depression-ridden 1933, one in every four was jobless.

Odd legislation: A Midwest community once made it illegal for a woman weighing more than 200 pounds to wear shorts while riding a horse.

Feathered chivalry: The male hawk, one of the most greedy and aggressive of all birds, isn't a bad husband. During periods of courtship and incubation he gallantly hunts food for and feeds his mate.

We all have our ups and downs: Some 255,000 U.S. passenger elevators transport 41 billion passengers a distance exceeding 138 million miles each year.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Slob Sister

Dear Ann: The woman who signed herself "Chippendale Soul" also has a Chippendale head. Her definition of "gracious living" is something she dreamed up out of nowhere. It takes more than flowers on the table and linen napkins to make living gracious.

We eat on oilcloth every night and I put the milk bottle right on the table when I feel like it. Nobody in the family has croaked at the sight of a pickle jar or a catsup bottle. Yet we live more graciously than some people who have a great deal of money.

I'm reminded of the weekend I spent with a girl friend during my college days. Her folks lived on an estate. They dined by candlelight and had two kinds of wine on the table every evening. These "gracious livers" were skunk-drunk from the minute I arrived on Friday evening until I left on Sunday afternoon.

They argued and used language that would make a mule skinner blush. There was never any conversation at their table—only fights.

So, if you don't mind I'll stick to my oilcloth and pickle jars. The gracious livers can have candlelight and profanity.—JUST A SLOB.

TEEN-AGE MOTHERS—The old saw about mother looking young enough to be her daughter's sister is becoming increasingly appropriate, with the increase of births to teen-age mothers, a trend which bids to continue with today's earlier marriages. Chart shows percentages of babies born to teen-age mothers in 1959 by states. While only 3 per cent of the babies born in 1959 had teen-age fathers, 14 per cent were born to teen-age mothers. More than 4 per cent—185,000 babies—were born to mothers under 18 years of age. (Data for Newschart as compiled by the Population Reference Bureau).

THREE FACE HEARING

LISBON — Three Columbiana County youths are expected to have a hearing today before County Judge Herbert Arfman in East Palestine on a charge of stealing gasoline from heavy construction equipment on Rt. 46, just outside of New Waterford.

The youths, one from New Waterford, and the others from Rogers RD 1, were apprehended by sheriff's deputies after the youths were surprised by Marshal Walter Taylor while they allegedly were siphoning gasoline out of the equipment. The marshal secured the license number of the car, resulting in the arrest of the youths.

Garfield Clover Leaves

Fifteen members of the Fairfield Clover Leaves met Tuesday in the home of Bonnie Bowers.

During the business meeting the fair booth committee was appointed, county demonstrations discussed and dates set for pre-judging.

Vicki Coburn and Kathy Wolam demonstrated "How to Start and Extinguish a Fire."

Linda Converse, club president, will be counselor for Junior Camp and several members are planning to attend.

Cheery Sisters

The next meeting will be in the home of Elaine Long June 19.

Summer recreation for the club was subject to discussion when members of the Cheery Sisters met recently in the home of the adviser, Mrs. Wilms.

Plans were made for a social and cook-outs scheduled for the summer, as outdoor cookery is a project of all the members of the club.

Following the business session a cook-out was enjoyed in the back yard of Mrs. Wilms' home.

The next meeting will be held at Stoffer's Lake.

Speidel-Freshly Nuptials Are Held In Hanoverton

At an afternoon wedding in Hanoverton United Presbyterian Church Saturday, Miss Anne Elizabeth Speidel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard T. Speidel of Hanoverton, became the bride of David Howard Freshly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Freshly of 1521 Overlook Drive, Alliance.

Before an altar banked with palms, schefflera and vases of white gladioli and pompons and graced with twin seven-branch candelabra, Rev. John P. Bortor officiated at the double ring ceremony at 2:30 p.m.

Miss Cynthia Shoemaker of Shelby was soloist, and Mrs. Eldon Kropf of North Canton presided at the organ. Both are sorority sisters of the bride.

Escorted down the aisle by her father and given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a gown of white silk tissue taffeta with a scoop neckline outlined with re-embroidered Alencon lace and pearls and long sleeves ending in points at the wrists. Appliques of lace adorned the skirt and chapel train which fell from a back detail of self roses. A crown of pearls, sequins and crystals held her finger tip veil of silk illusion, and she carried a cascade arrangement of white roses, pompons, baby carnations and ivy, topped with a white rose corsage.

Miss Ellen Speidel, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Judy Robinson of Bellaire and Miss Nancy Knotts of Cleveland, sorority sisters of the bride, and Mrs. Ronald Berger of Salem.

Miss Speidel wore a dress of Nile green with three-quarter sleeves and bell-skirt and matching crown with pearl trim and face veil, and carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses, white pompons and ivy. Miss Robinson's dress was of maize and Miss Knotts' of celilo blue, both made identical with the maid of honor's, and they carried bouquets of pink roses, white pompons and ivy.

Cindy Wickersham, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She was dressed in white organdy. Richard Dougherty of Salem was best man and ushering were John Dawson of Detroit, Mich., Robert Zimmerman of Salem and Wayne Denny of Beloit.

Following the ceremony 250 guests were registered by Miss Elizabeth Ziegler at the reception in the church social rooms. The bride's table was covered with a white linen cloth graced with a pink taffeta ruffle edged with pink roses, white pompons and trailing ivy. Fronds of ferns and pink rose buds encircled the three-tier wedding cake which was topped by a miniature bride and bridegroom. Mrs. John Glauner of Kent, Miss Marilyn Cahoon of Cleveland, Miss Suzanne Lindsay of Homeworth and Miss Lottie Lou Palmer of Lisbon served.

The bride is a graduate of United High School and Mount Union College where she was affiliated with Alpha Xi Delta Sorority. She will teach French and English at Alliance High School in September. A graduate of Salem High School and Mount Union College Mr. Freshly is a post-graduate student at Mount Union College. For a honeymoon to an undisclosed destination, the bride wore a beige sheath dress with matching accessories and the corsage from her wedding bouquet. The couple will reside at 1521 Overlook Drive, Alliance. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Freshly were hosts at the rehearsal dinner Friday evening at the Avalon Restaurant in Hanoverton. Attendants were presented gifts by the bridal pair.

Hints From Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

By HELOISE CRUSE
Dear Heloise: "Toss Pillows" in the front room are always used for everything . . . but I finally covered mine with cotton "shag and loop rugs. These have worn like iron. These covers have been washed over and over again and show no wear after five years. I always said that if I ever had time that I would love to make a slipcover for that favorite chair everyone sits in! Believe me . . . there is nothing cheaper that looks and wears so well. Doesn't show soil easily either.

MR. RICHARD HATZEL
Don't cast this hint aside. It's fabulous. I know. We covered some breakfast room chairs once in some looped, shag rugs that we bought on sale. They were wonderful and so rich looking!

Everyone commented on this. The covers didn't show dust, grease spots, soil or seat prints!

These covers can be removed from the chairs (or pillows) and washed in your washing machine—which saves a dry cleaning bill. We thumb-tacked ours on the bottom of our removable seat boards on our 7 dining room chairs. These boards can be removed with a twist of a screwdriver.

It's easy, simple and gives you a sense of accomplishment to be able to have something so fabulous in your dining or breakfast room. It's for sure that many of your friends won't have it.

And if I may make one more suggestion . . . think of using bath mats for this same purpose (providing you can get some matching ones on sale.)

Bath mats are easy to tack on the chair, cheap, no trouble to wash and give an entirely different effect. They come in such beautiful colors and textures now, and are just about the right size. Don't discard the idea until you have tried it.

Write to us . . . anytime. We are here for YOU! Got an idea you are willing to share with your friend . . . the other woman who is sitting in her kitchen, having that cup of coffee yet . . . her strength? make her budget stretch, or better yet . . . her strength? Send it in. Like I say, there is nothing more wonderful than that little old 4-cent stamp and the pencil. It brings you true friends who understand you.

Send your letters of frustration, problems, hints and thoughts to Heloise, in care of The Salem News today! Your coffee companion is waiting for 'em.

Terry Lou Smith Becomes Bride of William Nyberg

Rocky River Methodist Church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Terry Lou Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Weatherby Smith of Rocky River, and William Eric Gustav Nyberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Gustav Nyberg of Goshen Road, Saturday at 7:30 p.m.

Rev. M. Richard Drake officiated at the double ring ceremony before an altar flanked by twin candelabra and centered with a large floral arrangement.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a gown of white fashioned with a Sabrina neckline and short sleeves. Motifs of Alencon lace were interspersed on the controlled bell skirt which ended in a chapel train. Her bouffant elbow-length veil of imported silk English illusion fell from a forward crown of taffeta and seed pearls.

She wore three-quarter length gloves and carried a cascade arrangement of white sweetheart roses and feathered white carnations held with the wedding handkerchief of her sorority, Chi Omega.

Miss Gunhild Nyberg, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Norma Jean Weil of Shaker Heights, a sorority sister, and Miss Sandra May. The attendants wore identical dresses of white silk organza embroidered in light blue and matching blue Dior bows caught to short circular veils. Their cascade bouquets were of lavender and blue delphiniums.

Dr. Robert King Dorton of Brentwood, Mo., brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man. Richard Christenson of Olmsted Falls, Jack Hendron and Thomas Covert of Salem ushered.

Twin punch bowls flanked the three-tier wedding cake centering the bridal table at the reception in the church parlors following the ceremony. Miss Sondra Rudgers and Mrs. Donald Sigman served.

The bride graduated Friday from Ohio State University, majoring in retailing, and is employed by F. and R. Lazarus Co. at Columbus.

Mr. Nyberg is attending the School of Electrical Engineering at Ohio State University.

Following a honeymoon at Lake

James, Ind., the young couple will live at 1623 Perry, Apt. D, Columbus 1, Ohio.

The bridegroom's parents were hosts at the rehearsal dinner Friday evening in the Melon Room of Stoffer's Westgate Restaurant.

Mundt Says Freeman Sorry He Minimized Estes Case

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman now wishes he never said that the Billie Sol Estes case was being ballooned out of all proportions, says Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D.

Mundt, senior Republican on the Senate Investigations subcommittee that starts public hearings June 27 on Estes' operations, said he discussed the case with Freeman recently for an hour and a half.

"He indicated that the first statement that he made to the press—when he said it was being blown out of all proportion—was one of those statements all of us sometime make but we wish we could retract, because the thing is a lot more serious than he thought it was at the time," said Mundt.

Freeman made the remark at a news conference May 7. Estes, a West Texas promoter and financier, built a multimillion-dollar business on government grain storage, cotton and sales of fertilizer. He was indicted in April for fraud and he has declared himself bankrupt. The Senate subcommittee and a House group are investigating his operations and whether he received favored treatment from federal officials.

Mundt said Estes had. Interviewed by Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., on a program taped for radio and television stations in New York, Mundt contended the Agriculture Department showed favoritism to Estes by not requiring him to carry an adequate bond for storing government grain.

Estes' bond was set at $700,000 although he was storing grain valued up to $50 million. Agriculture Department officers have testified before the House subcommittee that the bond was based on an inaccurate audit Estes submitted on his net worth.

Mundt, saying the audit should have been thrown out, called the bond "one of the basic elements of the favoritism displayed. Of course there were others. One of them was when they appointed him to the National Advisory Cotton Council after he had already been fined and was already suspect by their own investigators."

This was in reference to the investigation of Estes' scheme of getting other cotton growers' allotments so that he could grow more cotton under price supports. The Agriculture Department finally ruled the plan illegal and fined him $554,172.

Mundt credited career Agriculture Department employees with doing a tremendous job in probing the transfer of cotton allotments to Estes. The House subcommittee resumes its hearings Wednesday.

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP) — Sixty-eight per cent of the residents of Hancock County — including those in the city and county jails — received their first of three doses of Sabin oral polio vaccine Sunday. The exact total to file through six stations set up around the county was 36,050.

Pomona, Calif., Builds a City for the Sixties

Pomona, Calif., 30 miles from Los Angeles, is undertaking a 10-year renaissance of the city and surrounding Pomona Valley. Heart of the plan is a nine-block-long pedestrian mall, shown in drawing at top, expected to be completed by September 1962. Construction involves building traffic underpasses, relocation of railroad rights of way and establishing off-street parking districts, among other things. New buildings and shops will line the mall, which will be decorated with trees and fountains and will include recreation areas.

Overall view of the new Pomona (below), shows a transportation center, which train is approaching at right, and a civic center. The Pomona plan is unique in being financed and led by private enterprise, without relying on state or federal aid. The city grew from 35,000 in 1950 to 227,000 in 1961 and expects a half-million population by 1980.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®. At all drug counters.

195 At Goshen Union Alumni Assn. Reunion

DAMASCUS — The 52nd annual banquet of the Goshen Union High School Alumni Association was held Saturday night, with 195 attending the dinner.

Dale Schoeni, president, welcomed the members and guests and conducted the business meeting.

Galen Beck of the nominating committee reported officers for —a Vista Dome Pullman and a Pullman club car—remained upright. The others twisted in all directions over 500 to 600 feet of the wooded area.

Train

One of the four diesel engines broke in half. All of them spilled off the tracks.

Engineer E. E. Lynn and fireman Jerry Haines, both of firm-soula, suffered minor cuts. Lynn was quoted by a railroad spokesman as saying the train lost air pressure as it started downhill.

About 100 National Guardsmen plus Red Cross disaster workers and others joined doctors and nurses in helping the wreck victims. The injured were taken to three hospitals.

The derailment tore up 500 feet of track. Repairing this damage and clearing the wrecked cars away will take several days. Passenger trains will use a freight line.

The estimate of $1 million in claims and damages was made by a railroad official, who asked that his name not be used.

JFK

for economic progress," Kennedy said.

"This administration is not going to give way to general hostility to business merely because there has been a single temporary disagreement with an industry, nor will the future belong to those who ignore the realities of our economic life in a neurotic search for unending reassurance."

Based on Confidence

"Corporate plans are not based on a political confidence in party leaders," Kennedy said, but on economic confidence in the nation's ability to invest, produce and consume. Business had confidence in Republican administrations of 1929, 1954, 1958 and 1960, he said, "but this was not enough to prevent recession when business lacked full confidence in the economy."

What really matters, Kennedy said, is the capacity of the nation as a whole to deal with problems and opportunities alike.

Kennedy chose Yale's 261st commencement to deliver what the White House clearly regarded as an important statement of his administration's domestic views.

He received an honorary degree —his 22nd—and joked about the fact that as a Harvard graduate he is now a Yale man.

"Someone has told me that I now have the best of both worlds —a Harvard education and a Yale degree," Kennedy said.

Turning serious, the chief executive said neither partisan wrangling nor "incantations from the forgotten past" can throw light on today's problems.

"It is not new that past debates should obscure present realities," Kennedy said. "But the damage of such false dialogue is greater today than ever before, simply because today the safety of all the world—the very future of freedom—depends as never before upon the sensible and clear-headed management of the domestic affairs of the United States."

Of the size and shape of government, he said the myth is that it is "big and bad—and steadily getting bigger and worse." Government spending has increased, regardless of the party in power, he said, but government has not grown as fast as the economy.

Kennedy said all sides must abandon "traditional labels and worn-out slogans of an earlier era" to "keep our mighty economic machine moving steadily ahead."

Western Europe's progress in the last decade illustrates how government can coordinate all sectors of an economy to generate prosperity, he said.

Paul W. Heauner of Akron was fined $150 and costs and sentenced to three days in jail by Mayor Dean B. Cranmer after he pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Heauner was arrested by city police at 1:20 a.m. Sunday on N. Ellsworth Ave.

In other cases, James Foster, 30, of Lisbon and Thomas Morgan, 35, of Edmon, Pa., were each fined $25 and costs for overload.

Moslem Police Slay Three Europeans

ALGIERS (AP)—Moslem auxiliary policemen today fired on Europeans near the Algiers docks, killing three and wounding six.

The uniformed Moslem policemen said Europeans attacked them and they shot back. Two Europeans riding in a truck near the scene of the shooting were seized and held as hostages.

A European police official said the Moslems, who were guarding a dockworkers' hiring point, opened fire without provocation on Europeans passing by.

Secret Army Organization commandos struck in a Sahara oil field Sunday in their "scorched earth" warfare but a Moslem nationalist leader said the terrorist fire power is fading.

Terrorist saboteurs blasted a well being drilled in the Sahara, about 60 miles south of the big Hassi Messaoud oil field, and set off a spectacular gas fire.

French officials expressed fears that the secret army, whose core now is believed to be largely French army deserters, would attempt to blow up dams, railroads and oil installations in their campaign to leave the country in ruins for the future Moslem rulers.

Chawki Mostefai, a spokesman for the Moslem National Liberation Front (FLN), told newsmen Algeria's Europeans were turning against the secret army fanatics.

"It would not be rash to foresee a halt in the present events," he said.

Premier Youssef Ben Khedda of the Algerian provisional government was reported preparing a "solemn declaration" directed at the million European settlers on their role in the new Algeria.

"We believe that this declaration will satisfy everyone," said Mostefai. He declined to go into details.

The European settlers were the backbone of the secret army in an attempt to block Algerian independence but there have been increasing signs they now realize the fight is hopeless.

They still hold bargaining powers, however, because a mass exodus of skilled Europeans would cripple the economy of the independent nation.

New explosions and fires raged in Algiers Sunday but crowds poured out to the beaches as usual.

Secret army bomb and arson commandos destroyed three more schools, an agricultural cooperative, a tax office and an Algiers hydraulics center. Thousands of records were burned.

Gunmen staged four holdups, including the municipal gambling casino in the capital's biggest hotel.

he believed "that in an enlightened community, the people will accept the decision in the right spirit and in the spirit that it was made."

Mayor Ivan Allen Jr., a Presbyterian, said he was "certain Atlanta and north Georgia people would show the same courtesy and consideration that was shown in the integration of the Atlanta public schools last fall."

Four high schools admitted nine Negroes at that time. One later returned to her old school at her request.

The peaceful lowering of racial barriers was cited by the archbishop as one reason for the church action now—about three months after New Orleans' 153 archdiocesan schools, with about 75,000 pupils were ordered integrated.

Ray Reich and Rex Hundertmark were elected delegates to represent Ohio at the International UCT Convention to be held in Cincinnati June 25-28.

Reich was named page for the Ohio Secretary-Treasurers Association and also was appointed chairman of the Grand Council Committee for Retarded Children for the ensuing year.

James L. Johnson was appointed to the safety committee and William M. Schaeffer to the Flag Day committee for next year's Ohio session to be held in early June.

Eleven members of Salem UCT Council attended the session last week.

Negley Festival Ends Successfully

NEGLEY — An estimated 1,500 people attended the final day Saturday of the volunteer firemen's annual carnival. Fire chief Don Mahon said the total attendance for the four-day event was the best of the 10 years the festival has been held.

Festivities were marred by two injuries. Mrs. Bertha Gray, elderly Negley resident, fell as she made her way to the grounds and was taken by firemen to Salem City Hospital. Pat Mercer, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Mercer, of Rogers badly tore the tip of her finger which she caught in a wire fence at the carnival. She was treated at the Salem Hospital.

Firemen will meet June 21 at 7:30 p.m.

Twins Blast Chisox 8-4, 11-7, Tie Yankees For First

Bombers Lose Pair to Orioles

Cleveland, Boston Split Double-Header

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

There is some question regarding Rich Rollins' rookie status but no one questions the right of the sensational Minnesota third baseman to be rated among the American League's most valuable players in his first full season in the majors.

The 24-year-old bonus prize was red hot again Sunday as the Twins conquered the Chicago White Sox twice, 8-4, 11-7 to climb into a virtual first-place tie with New York. Rollins rapped five hits, drove in three runs and scored three times.

The Yankees, beaten twice by Baltimore, 5-1 and 7-2, still hold a mathematical edge over the Twins. They have a 31-21 record for a .596 percentage compared to Minnesota's 34-24 and .586.

The Los Angeles Angels swept past Detroit into fourth place by beating Kansas City twice 14-6 and 6-5 while the Tigers were losing two to Washington 9-1 and 5-4. Cleveland downed Boston 2-3 after the Red Sox had won the opener 4-3 in 11 innings.

Cincinnati split with Philadelphia, winning 9-2 after a 7-5 loss. Chicago's Cubs gained a split with New York's Mets, winning the second game 5-4 in 10 innings after a 2-1 setback.

Rollins raised his league-leading batting average to .356. He reached base six straight times before relief pitcher Ed Fisher struck him out in the sixth inning of the nightcap. He cracked two singles, walked and hit his ninth homer in the opener and then singled and drove in two runs with a triple in the nightcap.

The stocky infielder joined the Twins from Charlotte in mid-season of 1961 and made only 17 plate appearances last year.

Normally, that would qualify him as a rookie this year because he came to bat fewer than 90 times. However, he was with the club more than 45 days, the limit for rookie status the following season.

Home runs sparked the Orioles to their double victory at Yankee Stadium. Whitey Herzog and Russ Snyder connected in the first game in support of Milt Pappas' sixth victory. Brooks Robinson and Jackie Brandt were the four-bagger men in the second game to smooth the way for Skinn Brown's third triumph.

Homers by Joe Hicks in the first game and Chuck Hinton and Dale Long together with tight pitching by Don Rudolph and Steve Hamilton were responsible for Washington's first double-header sweep of the season. The two victories stretched the Senators' winning streak to four games.

Second baseman Billy Moran drove in six runs, three with his sixth homer, to spark the Angels to their first game triumph. Leon Wagner's sixth-inning single broke a 5-5 tie in the second game.

Salem Drivers Place At Canfield Speedway

Don Burbick of Salem piloted his car to second place in the amateur consolation race Saturday at the Canfield Speedway.

Burbick also captured second place in his heat race.

Other Salem drivers to place in the amateur division were John Seddon, fourth place in the third heat and Gene Secrist, third place in the pursuit.

Youngstown Dog Tops County Kennel Show

"Best in Show" honors went to Youngstown-owned Ch. Val Knight Rank Saturday as the Westminster topped a list of 660 entries at the annual Columbiana County Kennel Club's dog show held at the Saxon Club here.

John Boehne's Val captured his eighth "Best" before some 1,500 spectators.

Conditioning Program Set At Swimming Pool

A "Swim and Stay Fit" program has been introduced at the Centennial swimming pool this summer.

According to Thomas Butler, pool manager, the program is not a contest of any kind but merely a conditioning plan.

The plan calls for swimmers to swim a total of 50 miles throughout the summer in quarter-mile lengths. Anyone wishing to participate may sign up at the pool bulletin board, Butler says.

Art Wall, golf's 1959 player of the year, had a 70,697 stroke average for 99 rounds of PGA golf that year.

Hot Stove Leagues

Two Class E and two Class G games were played Saturday in the Salem Hot Stove Leagues with one forfeit being recorded and three of the four teams retaining unblemished records.

Class E

George Begalla's two-run homer in the top of the seventh highlighted a three run rally and led Famous Market to a 5-4 win over CIO 3372. It was the Market crew's second consecutive win of the season and the losers' second defeat.

The winners held a 2-1 advantage at the end of the first inning but the Union boys scored three times in the second and made the lead stand until Famous Market exploded in the seventh.

Dick Wilt and Greg Johnson each doubled for the winners while the losers' Dave Walker had three singles in as many trips to the plate.

In the only other Class E game slated, E. W. Bliss forfeited to the VFW.

Class G

National Cleaners dumped the Italian Club 9-3 for their third consecutive win without a loss and remained in second place in the Class G division behind pace-

Giants' Trademark Is 'Swoon In June'

By The Associated Press

As certain as death and taxes—that's a San Francisco Giants' swoon in June.

In each of their first four seasons in San Francisco, the Giants had stormed into June in or very close to first place in the National League standings only to fall flat on their faces in the month of honeymoons and traditional bliss.

This year, their fifth on the West Coast, has been no exception. They absorbed two more defeats at the hands of the St. Louis Cardinals Sunday—6-5 and 13-3—extending their losing streak to six straight games.

The double defeat, coupled with Los Angeles' double triumph over Houston, by scores of 9-3 and 9-7, dropped the Giants 2½ games behind the league leading Dodgers. Only a week ago the Giants led the Dodgers two games.

The Giants' June collapse is one of those believe-it-or-nots. Take a look:

1958—The Giants were in first place on June 1, enjoying a one-game lead over Milwaukee. They lost 14 of their next 20 to drop into third place, 3½ games off the pace.

1959—The Giants were in second place, a game in back of Milwaukee on June 1. They lost 9 of their next 16 to fall two games behind.

1960—The Giants were in first place on May 30, leading Pittsburgh by one game. They lost 17 of their next 22 to skid into third place 6½ games behind.

1961—The Giants were in first place on May 29, leading Los Angeles by a game and a half. They lost 8 of their next 10 to fall into

Skin Diving Tryouts Slated At Centennial Wednesday

Thomas Butler, Centennial Park swimming pool manager, announced today that try-outs for skin diving classes will begin Wednesday at 9:15 p.m.

Persons wishing to participate must be 13 years old before the 13th of this month. Other requirements are as follows:

1. Swim 250-300 yards using no swimming aids. Student may use own style at his own rate of speed, but must not touch bottom or sides of pool until full distance is completed.
2. Swim 15 yards underwater holding breath. Student may use own style at his own rate of speed. Student may duck under and push off from side of pool but may not use a diving start from side of pool.
3. Tread water for 15 minutes. Student may use own style as long as his head is above water at all times.
4. Tread water for one minute using legs only, with arms folded across chest or finger tips held out of water. Head must remain above water at all times with no aids.
5. Swim 25 yards wearing a 10 lb. weight belt. May use own style and speed, but no aids.

Equipment necessary for the skin diving class are a set of swim fins, soft rubber mask with plate glass (no plastic) and a snorkel (a breathing tube) without a ping pong ball in it.

Littler Sets Sights on Open

Captures Top Prize In $100,000 Classic

CLIFTON, N.J. (AP)—Not since Ben Hogan did it in 1951 has a U.S. Open champion repeated, but Gene Littler, the sweet-swinging San Diego, Calif., made it clear today that he is a real threat for his second straight this week at Oakmont, Pa.

"I'm pretty confident about my game," said Littler, who collected the $25,000 first prize—top payoff of the year—in the $100,000 Golf Classic Sunday. "I'm playing as well as I am capable of playing. I never am."

Those are strong words for Littler, an even-tempered quiet man who finally made the predictions of stardom for him stand up when he took the Open last year at Oakland Hills.

He banged out a 5 under par 67 Sunday, to come from a stroke back of Jack Nicklaus, and finish with 275, a four-day total of 13 under par on the 7,055-yard Upper Montclair Country Club course.

Nicklaus had a final-round 70 for 277. Wes Ellis and Dow Finsterwald split third with 280.

Littler's victory shot him into second spot among the pro money winners with $53,704.16, behind Arnold Palmer who has $60,331. Palmer had a poor tournament, never contending, and wound up with a 71, for 290 and $460. He spent more than that on new golf club grips during the tournament, trying to straighten out his game.

Littler 31, never has played Oakmont, the sand-speckled terror where he must defend his crown, in fact, never has seen it.

"I was in the Navy in 1953 the last time they played the Open there," he said, "and I couldn't get away. "But then I never played Upper Montclair before, either."

Sam Snead, the half-way leader, rallied from 78 in the third round to a two-under 70 to finish in a 10th place tie at 284. He made $1,900.

Lincoln Captures Fourth In Class AA

League-leading Lincoln Machine captured its fourth straight tilt as it downed Stepanics Tavern, 5-3 in Class AA action at Kelley Park Sunday.

In the only other Class AA game played Sunday Industrial Mining and Old Dutch played to a 4-4 deadlock.

Two encounters were played Saturday with Tullis American blanking Purity Deeres, 9-0 in Class AA play and the Salem Democrats dropping Shaffer Ford, 9-4 in Class A action.

Lincoln Machine jumped off to a fast start by racking up three runs in the first inning on singles by Gene Hammett and Henry Miller and a double by Chuck Marks.

Stepanics tallied one in the fourth and two in the sixth as Jim Roach rapped a double in the fourth canto and Bill Ferguson followed with a single. Roach came back in the sixth with another double and was followed by a two-bagger by Dick Andric.

In the Industrial Mining - Old Dutch tilt a total of 12 hits were rapped with the Mining nine collecting eight. Of the eight safeties, three were homers. Roger James, Zip McDevitt and Satch Altomere each socked the round-trippers.

Barnes smashed two doubles for the Old Dutch crew.

Tullis American hurler Dave Ehrhart limited the Purity Deeres to only a single by Jim Cranston in the fifth frame while fanning seven to gain his shutout.

The victors pounced on Purity pitcher Jim Clayton for six tallies in the first inning as Jim Harrigan, Jerry Hendricks and Ken Luce all socked doubles and Wayne Hahn collected a single.

In the Class A tilt played Saturday the Salem Democrats broke a 2-2 deadlock in the fourth inning by pushing four runs across the plate. The Democrats racked up their four tallies on singles by Jerry Osboursie, Chuck Henderson, Chuck Wilson and Melvin Williams along with a double by Bob Morris.

A triple by Henderson and a homer by Chuck Wilson in the seventh powered the Democrats to victory.

Jerry Boiling, Eldin Morse and Sonny Jacks each socked two singles apiece to pace the Shaffer Ford attack.

Crimson Satan Is Problem to Owner

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Crimson Satan, the 1961 2-year-old champ, hasn't won a major race this year but he still could be a big factor in unscrambling the puzzle which Jaipur made of the 3-year-old title picture by winning the $153,300 Belmont Stakes.

First of all, however, Trainer George Potter must find what causes the Crimson King Farm's ace to lug in when he hooks up with other horses in a stretch battle such as developed in the final eighth of a mile last Saturday at Belmont Park.

With an eighth of a mile of the 1½-mile test remaining, Manuel Ycaza drove Crimson Satan to almost even terms with Jaipur and Admiral's Voyage. Admiral's Voyage, who had set nearly all the early pace, was on the rail, Crimson Satan on the outside.

Suddenly Satan lugged in and bumped Jaipur. Like a shot, Jaipur took off again but Admiral's Voyage answered the challenge with one of his own. As they reached the 'ish line, Willie Shoemaker dropped Jaipur's head in front to take the winner's share of $109,550 and give owner

George D. Widener his first Belmont Stakes winner after 10 failures. Crimson Satan was 1¼ lengths back in third place.

Crimson Satan's tendency to bear in previously had cost him the $130,700 Jersey Derby at Garden State Park on Memorial Day. He came from behind to finish ahead of Jaipur and Admiral's Voyage but lugged in and was disqualified. Jaipur was moved to first place and Admiral's Voyage awarded second.

"I've about come to the conclusion it is something in his head that makes him duck in," said Potter before shipping Crimson Satan to Monmouth Park at Oceanport, N.J. "I can't find what is hurting him. Perhaps there is a mental block. He doesn't do it until he hooks up with other horses in the stretch."

Robbys' Knoll Leaders Hold Slim Margins

The Log Cabin and Pine Crest continue to lead the Robbys' Knoll Golf League by slim margins in their respective divisions.

The Cabin crew holds a half-point lead over the Barclay Machine team in the National Division while the Pine Crest aggregation is in front of Herron Foods by one marker in the American Division.

Low gross honors in the National Division were picked up by the First National Bank outfit with 159 while Gene Sommer Sr. of First National Bank and John Ulrick of Saxon No. 2 racked up individual low gross scores, each with 37 strokes.

In the American Division Del Smith of Ohio Fuel & Gas chalked up the low gross score with a 34. Other low gross scores recorded for the week include Clarence Houts, 35, Ralph Knepper, 36, Denny Steede and Frank Young, both with 37.

Walt and Dee Alesi racked up the low gross in the first scotch foursome of the year at the course with a score of 45.

Second place ended in a tie with Bud and Eria Burrier matching the 46 tally of Buca and Betty Whitecomb. Bill and Clara May Hanny placed third with a 47.

The second scotch foursome of the year will be held on Sunday, June 24. All couples interested should sign up at the club house. The standings of the week are as follows:

Salem Golf Club Holds Par Tourney

Fred Fenske and Erv Painchaud teamed to win the Salem Golf Club's Weekend Partners Match against Par Tourney.

Fenske and Painchaud were 12 up on par to edge Bruce Corton and Chet Roof by two strokes.

A three-way tie developed for the third spot with the teams of Rudy Schuster and Del Smith, Ray Lowry and Hank Zimmerman and Terry Nash and Blaine Thompson all shooting nine up on par.

Jim Winegard led the field for low gross with a 35-36-71 with Rudy Schuster second with a 36-37-72.

Every year, children playing with matches start hundreds of fires that cost thousands of dollars and untold pain and damage besides.

Smokey says this needless waste can be stopped. Won't you PLEASE:

1. Keep matches away from your little ones.
2. Teach your older children to be careful with every fire.
3. Show them the damage that fires can do.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

A word from
THERON at the Old Country Store

We are always looking for more people so this week I am going to invite all the people who hate my guts to come out. If they all come we should have a big crowd.

Tell the girls at the counter and they will give you a free cup of coffee.

Bring this article with you and we will give you one of our big delicious hamburgers with the full 1/4 lb. of meat. this offer is open to my friends as well.

Offer Ends Monday, June 18th.

Polio Immunizations Ended At Leetonia

LEETONIA — A total of 2,457 doses of Sabin Type II oral polio vaccine were administered by doctors and nurses in the clinics held in Leetonia High School Wednesday and Saturday of last week.

It was a decline of more than 150 from the number who took advantage of the polio clinics when Type III was given, and more than 2,800 took Type I serum in March.

The complete program of immunization has now been carried out in the community. Those who have not had one of the various types of vaccine are urged to watch the newspapers as to where they might still get the serum.

Gratitude is expressed to a number of volunteer technicians for aiding in the administration of the program in Leetonia. Dr. and Mrs. Paul Conrad had charge of the clinic on Wednesday, and Dr. Paul Beaver and nurses Mrs. James Degnan and Miss Jennie Nicolette had charge of the clinic on Saturday.

Mrs. John Anglemeyer of Lisbon St. is reported improving following surgery at the Salem Central Clinic Hospital.

Mrs. Beatrice Hisey has entered Salem City Hospital for surgery.

Norbert Philippi represented the Leetonia Council of the Knights of Columbus at their 63rd state convention last week in Cleveland.

Members of the Class of 1963 of the Leetonia High School will hold a picnic Tuesday at Woodland Lake, west of Homeworth. Members are asked to meet at the high school at 10 a.m. prior to leaving.

MYSTERY WITNESS — David Probst, Indianapolis attorney who disappeared seven years ago, was produced by the FBI scant hours before he would have been declared legally dead, to testify before a federal grand jury in Washington, D.C. The jury is investigating his dealings with Teamsters' President James R. Hoffa.

PRODUCTION RESUMES

NILES, Ohio (AP)—Production resumed late Sunday night at the Truscon Division of Republic Steel Corp. after 350 striking steelworkers agreed to return to work. The employees, members of Local America, walked off their jobs Thursday in protest over the company's firing of two workers.

Rogers

Rogers Christian Church will hold its annual home-made ice cream-strawberry festival Saturday evening beginning at 5 p.m.

The Rogers Chapter of W.C.T.U. met Friday at the home of Mrs. Homer Barnhouse. Mrs. Jesse Knight was leader.

Mrs. Wilbur Huston is home from the Rochester General Hospital, Beaver Falls, where she had a foot operation.

Miss Ann Raley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Raley, is home for the summer from college in West Virginia.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Jenkins visited recently in New Philadelphia at the homes of Mrs. Mildred Hunker and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Siber.

Mr. and Mrs. William Crowl and sons of Michigan Center, Mich., visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Galbreath.

Mother-Daughter Banquet of the Pythian Sister Lodge will be held Tuesday with a coverdsh at 6 p.m.

Instructor Billy Reynolds (turning front wheel) and Shell dealers check out a car at one of Shell's 123 training centers.

Shell instructor Billy Reynolds offers 10 clues that may help you spot trouble before it starts

OVER 12,000 Shell dealers go to Shell training centers every year. There, they learn how to spot trouble quickly.

Here are 10 trouble signals that Billy Reynolds, one of Shell's chief instructors, always stresses. If you notice any of them in your car, tell your Shell dealer. His advice might head off a big repair bill later on.

1. Mushy brakes. When your car is standing still, push the brake pedal down with a firm, steady pressure. If it feels soft and sinks to the floor, you've got trouble that should be fixed right away.

2. Wandering wheels. If your front tires show more wear on one side of the tread than the other, your wheel alignment is probably at fault. Out-of-line wheels can increase tire wear up to 50 percent.

3. Jiggly front end. Shove down hard on either bumper with your foot. If the car bobs up and down for a long time before coming to a rest, ask your Shell dealer to check your shock absorbers.

4. Decrepit tail pipe. If your muffler or tail pipe is rusted through in spots, it's a good idea to replace it.

5. "Bloated" radiator hoses. Inspect all of the rubber hoses that interconnect your cooling system. If they're cracked or swollen, they can fail at any time and cause your engine to overheat.

6. Marred windshield. If your windshield is scarred or streaked, it's probably due to faulty windshield wipers. Have your Shell dealer check and replace them if necessary.

7. Strange noises. Listen for any odd noises from your car. They can be warnings of trouble on the way.

8. Under-the-hood clues. You can learn a lot by looking at your engine. Watch for oil, fuel and water leaks. Also, loose wires and worn insulation.

9. Sluggish battery. If your engine turns over more slowly than usual when you start up, a weak battery is probably the trouble. But it could be something else. Better check it.

10. Oil-streaked sidewalls. Check the sides of your tires you seldom see—the sides facing in. Look for signs of leaking fluid on the tire walls. Could be a leaking brake cylinder, or faulty oil seals on the rear wheels. Both can be serious.

Any trained Shell dealer knows many trouble signals besides these. Take advantage of his training. And one last tip: when you've got your car in top condition, keep it filled with today's Super Shell—for top performance all year long.

Super Shell's 9 ingredients for top performance

TCP*—for power, mileage and longer plug life.

Pentane mix—for fast warm-ups.

Anti-knock mix—for resistance to knocks.

Alkylate—to help control "high-speed" knock.

Butane—for quick starts.

Cat-cracked gasoline—for power.

Anti-icer—added in cold weather to help check carburetor icing stalls.

Gum preventive—to help keep carburetors clean inside.

Platformate—for extra mileage.

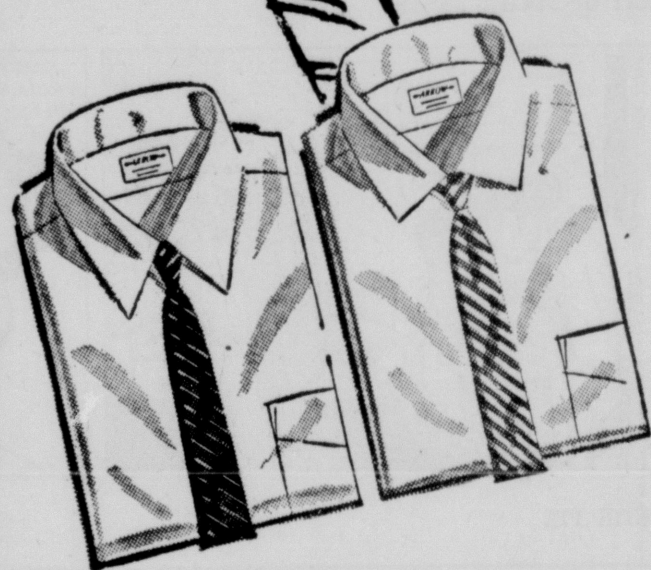

*Trademark for Shell's unique gasoline additive. Gasoline containing TCP is covered by U.S. Patent 2889219.
